Rooted in multiple layers of creative design for 28 years, DreamMaker is a luxury travel boutique that designs truly experiential vacations for the ultra-affluent client who is looking for more than the requisite luxury.

HISTORY

Founder Gregory Patrick started his career by pioneering the rental of private estates. Being the first in the world to offer luxury hotel services in a private property environment in an effort to control the guest experience from top to bottom, his mark ensured excellence through the personalized synchronization of services. Patrick soon diversified and established Tours of Enchantment in 1988, offering highly personalized, experiential luxury vacations and events with his own signature multi-layered creative design. In 2009, the company rebranded to DreamMaker, a direct play on the fond moniker bestowed on him by longtime clients.

MISSION

To create truly unique, experiential vacations and events rooted in multiple layers of creativity and deliver the smallest detail with the highest standard of excellence to the ultra-affluent clientele who demand more than the requisite luxury.
